

Security Bulletin

SecB0011: Google Flagging enteliWEB as a 'Dangerous Site'

Summary

First published: January 27, 2025

Description	When navigating to enteliWEB using Google Chrome, some users are presented with a 'Dangerous Site' warning page.
Affected Products	enteliWEB
Recommended Action	Request your URL to be whitelisted by Google.

Description

When navigating to enteliWEB in Google Chrome, some users are presented with a 'Dangerous Site' warning page.

How does this affect your Delta Controls product?

enteliWEB does not contain malware. However, customers who see this warning may experience disruptions in accessing enteliWEB.

Our IT, Cybersecurity, and Product Development teams have conducted a thorough investigation and have confirmed that enteliWEB is secure and that no customer data has been affected. The Cybersecurity team is actively working with Google to remove these flags.

If you have any concerns or would like more detail, please contact the Cybersecurity team at cybersecurity@deltacontrols.com.

Recommended Action

Request your URL to be whitelisted by Google. Follow the steps outlined here: https://safebrowsing.google.com/safebrowsing/report_error/